Mosquito Association 6147th Tactical Control Group

From the President

On behalf of Norma and I we send our wishes for a very happy New Year to all and hope all had a very Merry Christmas. Another year has passed and we are looking forward to a productive and prosperous year.

Part of the productive year is another fun filled and enjoyable reunion. We don't have everything tied down yet but we are working on it. The hotel contract has been signed and our rates are very reasonable considering we will again be across the street from the airport. Unlike last year, we will not have some members in the east wing and some in the west wing. For 2016 all attendees will be housed in the west wing where all our activities will be held. I.E. Hospitality room, dinner and banquet rooms and the elevator doors opening right at the dining room where we have our breakfast.

As for the tours, Thursday will be a boat ride on the Mississippi with an onboard lunch fit for a king. Friday will be a bus trip to the Missouri History Museum followed by a trip to Scott AFB where we will have lunch and hopefully other activities sponsored by the base. Of course what happens at Scott depends on what military activities may be going on during reunion week.

It is my intention to get the reunion packet in the mail sometime in March with costs and appropriate details.

Chaplin's Thoughts

It's hard to believe another Christmas season is behind us. Seems like the time between the holidays is becoming shorter and shorter. Maybe there is some correlation between this and my age.

Although the electronic age has left me behind (and just maybe some of you are in the same boat) it is a wonderful time to be alive. I am thankful every morning when my feet hit the floor and I realize another day awaits me.

Checking with the actuarial tables recently I found all current Mosquitoes have exceeded the average life expectancy for males in the United States. This should bring a smile to all our faces.

I have to admit I don't totally understand the ramifications of the current political, cultural and social situations that our TV's blast into our living rooms every day. And it would be very easy to become cynical and develop a negative attitude toward everyday life and become pessimistic about the future.

Yet every one of us has been blessed. Just the fact we are still alive and able to read this newsletter demonstrates this fact. Yes, some have gone through some sad times, lost loved ones, and are facing some serious health issues. But, as you have read in previous chaplain reports, our future can be secure.

Our God has provided a means for each of us to spend eternity with him. As I have noted in previous Chaplains reports, all this requires is that we each believe on and accept his Son as our personal savior. Jesus has already paid the price for our admittance into God's heaven. If you haven't made this choice, it's now up to you.

Dick Warner, Mosquito Chaplain
